DEATH RECALLS REDWOOD TRAGEDY

After many years in obscurity there passed away in San Francisco recently, Mrs. Hannah Willis, one time a dweller in Redwood City, but now unknown and forgotten by all but a few of the older residents. Thirty years ago Mrs. Willis was the central figure around whom moved the actors in a bloody drama in this city, involving the death of a well-known and talented newspaper man, a long drawn out and bitterly fought murder trial and the final acquittal of the slayer, leaving as its legacy a divided community in which much ill feeling was manifested on both sides over the slaying and the acquittal of the slayer.

In the early eighties there came to Redwood City, Ralph Sidney Smith, a San Mateo county boy with a wide newspaper experience who assumed charge of the Times-Gazette, then owned by the San Mateo Publishing company. Smith took an active part and was a strong influence in county affairs. He was a member of the Native Sons and as such was deeply devoted to his native county and State. He was of a kindly nature, full of generous impulses and strange though it may seem, this trait of character led to his death.

Mrs. Willis whose death is referred to was a widow with a large family of small children, in indigent circumstances. Smith and his wife took an interest in her and did much to make light her heavy burdens. She lived in a home owned by Dr. S. S. Stambaugh, an esteemed old county resident, who had for his rent collector, a Dr. Powell, a brother-in-law, whose character was not of the best. Mrs. Willis was receiving a small income from the county to assist in the support of her family. During the month of November, 1887, this allowance was overlooked by the Board of Supervisors and she was unable to pay her rent that month. Powell who drank excessively at times was needlessly harsh to the woman because of her temporary failure to pay the rent, referring to her as a "pauper" and finally disconnecting the city water as a means of driving her from the premises. At least this is the story she told to Smith, her kind friend, to whom she took her troubles.

Smith was naturally incensed at Powell's brutality. His first act was to have the water again connected with the house, then to assure Powell that the rent would be promptly settled, and in the following issue of his paper, he took occasion to censure Powell for his ungentlemanly conduct toward the helpless woman.

A few days afterward Powell and Smith met in a drug store on Main street. They had some angry words. Powell called Smith a vile name, Smith struck him with his umbrella and Powell drew his revolver and shot Smith down. The bullet entered his spine, causing instant paralysis, and as he lay helpless on the floor, the enraged Powell shot him a second time. Smith was fatally wounded, and though every effort was made to save his life, he passed away that night. His body was laid to rest in St. John's cemetery at San Mateo, close to where his childhood and boyhood years were passed.

Powell's trial next occupied public attention, the best legal talent being employed on both sides. Among those who assisted in the prosecution was Samuel M. Shortridge, a budding young orator, now United States Senator, who gave his services to aid in bringing to justice the killer of his friend, Ralph Smith. Shortridge's speech to the jury which was widely published throughout the state was considered in language and delivery an oratorical masterpiece. He threw his soul into this great effort of his life and was breathlessly listened to by a crowded courtroom.

The jury failed to agree on a verdict, although the majority held out for conviction. A second trial likewise failed of results, and a third trial, held in San Francisco, gave a conviction with a prison sentence of ten years. But because of the fact that the defendant was removed to another county for trial without his consent, the Supreme Court reversed the San Francisco court and sent the case back to San Mateo county for its fourth trial.

It was at this trial that the duplicity of Mrs. Willis manifested itself. During the preceding trials she steadfastly stuck to the story, whether true or untrue, that she had told Smith and which caused the tragedy, but at the fourth trial she declared that she had not complained to Smith, had told him nothing, and that his newspaper article had no foundation other than his own suggestion. With this strong prop removed from the prosecution, the case of the people fell and there was a speedy acquittal of the defendant.

Returning to the week of the tragedy, an examination of the files of the Times-Gazette show the issue of December 3rd, 1887, in deep mourning over the untimely loss of the paper's well beloved editor.

An article entitled "Farewell," written by J. V. Swift, the paper's foreman, occupied the editorial page, its concluding lines being as follows:

"The death of Ralph S. Smith is a public calamity. Among the prominent writers on the Pacific Coast he ranked high. As a lover of justice and a promoter of the best interests of San Mateo county, he stood in the front rank. The members of Redwood Parlor, among whom Mr. Smith was an energetic and active co-worker, mourn his loss. Those with whom he was actively associated are stricken with grief; and those with whom his acquaintance was passing, deplored his untimely death. The attaches of the Times and Gazette office from the head of the mechanical department to the latest apprentice are the most sorrowful, next to those who are near and dear. His every consideration was for their comfort and welfare. His kindness and fatherly advice often given are things to be remembered.

"On his bier we now lay this our last simple tribute: Dear, kind, friend, green be thy grave. Soft and peaceful and restful thy slumber, close to childhood's happy home, surrounded by all of nature's choicest gifts. Sleep well. And when the mountains shall have been rent asunder, and the hills and valleys and sea have given up their dead, come forth from thy grave, stainless and pure as on the day of birth, and on thy white unsullied brow, receive the crown of immortality, the price of virtue and bravery, true manhood and honesty. Brave heart! True friend! Martyr! Trusty public servant! Hail and Farewell!"

Ralph Smith's wife, a winsome, light-hearted creature, happy in sharing with her husband in deeds of kindness, but now embittered and heart-broken, took her little boy with her to San Francisco where she has since resided, earning her own livelihood, still faithful to the memory of the loving companion of her younger and happier years, still looking forward with an abiding faith to the time when they will be united again in the realm beyond the tomb. She has never seen Redwood City since her departure from it thirty-five years ago.

What changes the flight of the years have wrought! Most of the actors in that bloody drama have gone to their long rest, attorneys, jurors, witnesses and defendant. Eugene Duprey who lead in the prosecution and George Knight who handled the defense, both brilliant men, have gone to their reward, and now the chief witness, the central figure in the tragedy, has passed over to meet those other actors in the bloody drama which she staged, to face the man whose death she caused. Did the gentle, kind-hearted Ralph Smith, meet her in anger? No. But like the Savior, who while his life was ebbing away on the cross 2000 years ago, asked pardon for his persecutors, his plea long since has gone to the Throne on High, in these words doubtless, "Father, forgive her; she knew not what she did."

U. S. INCOME TAX MAN PROVES VERY COURTEOUS

Frank L. Foppiano, deputy internal collector, who had been at the court house the fore part of the week coaching those desiring to make their income report and to pay the amount due the government on incomes, gave general satisfaction by his uniform courtesy, kindness and patience in dealing with the hundreds that sought his aid.

Mr. Foppiano is a genial gentleman possessing marked ability, a kindness that makes every one approaching him at home. The government has a splendid representative in him, one whom the people may consult without fear of insult, one who will listen patiently to their appeals and who is ever ready and willing to assist them. Mr. Foppiano is a San Mateo county man, maintaining a home at San Mateo.

NEW PRINCIPAL FOR THE WOODSIDE SCHOOL

The Woodside school became vacant again this week through the resignation of the lady who became principal last week. On Wednesday County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud appointed Mr. John D. Gish a well known resident of Woodside to fill the position. Mr. Gish is a graduate of the University of California and taught for two years in the Los Angeles city schools before locating here.

He has taken hold of the work in an enthusiastic manner and will without doubt make a success of the venture. While Mr. Gish's work has been along other lines he has kept a close tab on educational affairs and so will soon get back his knowledge of school room procedure.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

M. J. Knox left yesterday for Paradise, Butte county, to attend the funeral of his brother, E. L. Knox, who died on Thursday. The funeral will take place today. The deceased was a prominent fruit grower of that section and was well-known throughout northern California. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He is survived by an aged mother and several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Lucy Taylor Winne, a former resident of Redwood City, passed away at Honolulu on February 19 at the age of 71 years. Mrs. Winne and her family left here about twenty years ago.

Mr. Winne, her husband, was engaged in the butcher business here at one time with the late Thomas Hind. Mrs. Winne was born in Kailua, Kona, Hawaii and was a granddaughter of Asa and Lucy Thurston, pioneer missionaries to Hawaii, they having landed in Kailua in 1820.

The deceased was 71 years of age and is survived by her husband, Jacob P. Winne, and four children, James P. Winne, Miss Mary P. Winne, Miss Jane L. Winne and Mrs. E. R. Boyer, all of Honolulu.

Mrs. H. E. Heiner has sold her property on Whipple road and Rodger street to Letts and Witte, the realty brokers, who are going to develop it and sell it as a business location.

Miss Norma Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Johnson of this city and a recent graduate of the Sequoia Union high school, has been appointed a deputy in the office of County Assessor D. P. Flynn. Miss Johnson is a clever typist and accountant.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Stevens received letters from their two sons this week. Both of the Stevens boys are marine engineers and are in different parts of the world. Arthur Stevens is first engineer on the Silver Shell a tanker belonging to the Shell Oil company. He started lately from London and sailed in through the Mediterranean to Jaffa. From there he sailed through the Suez canal and Red sea into the Indian ocean. He stopped at various points in India, went to Borneo and is now at Singapore in the Strait Settlements. He expects to remain there for a couple of weeks and then return to London. Paul Stevens is third engineer on a passenger steamer and is now in Genoa, Italy, he having recently sailed to that port from New York.

The Redwood City Congregational church celebrated its regular communion service last Sunday morning. After the sermon by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Stevens, thirteen new members were taken into the church. As several of them had never been baptized the baptismal right was conferred upon them before they were taken into the church membership.

Mrs. Jas. McCormick Jr., and Miss Madeline Ginoia of Pescadero were in Redwood City visiting friends this week.

Mrs. Henry Steinberger has been in Los Angeles for the past two weeks visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. John Cook.

Mrs. Josephine N. Yount has brought a suit in the superior court of San Francisco against her husband, Dr. George B. Yount, on the ground of failure to provide for herself and family. The doctor at one time practiced dentistry here and had a home in Redwood Highlands. He has practiced in San Francisco for some time.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES FINISHED

Two beautiful homes in the Searsville section have lately been completed and are now occupied by their owners. One on the site of the old Searsville Hotel is owned by Mr. Norwood Smith of the University Realty company. It is a large home of colonial design and is finished in white plaster stucco. The other is just across from the Shilling home and was erected for Mr. A. Hirsch, proprietor of the States Restaurant in San Francisco. It is of old Dutch architecture and long, sloping green roof and brown cement exterior finish. It is a wonderfully artistic home and blends beautifully with the surrounding landscape.

GIRL TO BLESS THE HOME OF MR. AND MRS. F. ALLEN

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Behrens received a telegram Tuesday from Sedalia announcing the arrival of a baby girl at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Frank Allen. Mrs. Behrens had intended to visit her daughter about April 10, as the little stranger was scheduled to arrive about the middle of April, but the little girl has a mind of her own and decided to give her parents a surprise by arriving earlier.

The wedding of Miss Luella Behrens and Frank Allen took place on April first, 1920. It was a big social affair. Mrs. Allen is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Behrens.

CITY TRUSTEES MET MONDAY

A very important matter was presented to the trustees at the meeting of last Monday, that of dividing the town into districts or zones for the purpose of fire protection, and designating the class of buildings that may be constructed in each zone.

City Attorney Mansfield established the city as a residential district and then excepted certain parts as business and industrial districts.

L. Duceing petitioned the board for a license to operate the Saddle Rock restaurant. He presented a copy of the lease, which calls for a rental of $100 a month. Mr. Baradat was the lessee and he sublet the property.

Before a license was granted Mr. Duceing was questioned by Trustee Tuchen, who explained why the place was closed.

Permission to operate a laundry at 125 Main street was granted to C. Reynal.

The following dance permits were granted till 1 o'clock:

American Legion, April 2, in Masonic hall.

Foresters Hall Association, March 19 and April 2, in Foresters Hall.

A communication from the Chamber of Commerce inviting the members of the board to participate at a banquet to be held in the Hotel Sequoia on the following evening was ordered filed and the members were requested to attend.

A dance permit was granted the Native Daughters for March 2.

Street Superintendent Ed. Dearborn was instructed to report on the cost of supplying J. C. Price, in block 5 Central Addition, with water, also Engineer C. L. Dimmitt was instructed to give estimates for constructing a sewer in the same district.

Plans were made for preparing the grounds in front of the city hall for a lawn, and Superintendent Dearborn was instructed to prepare the ground and plant the lawn.

The matter of repairing Jefferson avenue was discussed to some length. The property owners along this street want to raise the money by private subscription to cover the necessary repairs, thereby avoiding the expense of publishing the notices and other minor details. If the present plan goes through the street will be oil macadamized, and if the city does the work it will be a concrete base with asphaltum top.

Due to the fact that El Camino Real is the dividing line between East Brewster avenue and Brewster avenue thus making it rather confusing for a stranger to find a certain house on this street, the Street Superintendent was instructed to prepare two signs to be placed at the dividing line for the convenience of the public, on one end the sign will read "East Brewster avenue" and on the other "Brewster avenue". The same plan will be followed at Jefferson avenue.

City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt presented plans for the reworking of Main and Broadway from the S. P. depot to the S. P. tracks on Main street. The plans call for underground wiring.

SOME DISCUSSION OVER A ROCK CRUSHER

At the meeting of the board of supervisors on Monday last quite a discussion arose between Supervisor MacBain and the other members of the board regarding the payment of $3612 for a Telmish rock crusher. Last year while Mr. MacBain was chairman, he purchased the crusher at the request of the board. Mr. Smith, the seller, agreed to land the machine in the county complete for the amount stated. The crusher was ditched at Colma, was not set up as agreed and a number of the parts were missing. When the bill came up for payment some time ago MacBain protested. It was held up by the auditor and last Monday returned to the board for settlement.

The district attorney instructed the board to pay it on the understanding that Smith would supply all missing parts. However the claim should not have been paid until the contract had been complied with, but it was. MacBain did not withdraw his protest but did want to take the matter into court and so the claim went through.

MISS MARY MURRAY TEACHER OF MUSIC AT SAN JOSE HI

Miss Mary Elizabeth Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Murray of this city, has taken a position as assistant teacher in the music department of the San Jose high school. She will instruct classes in harmony and history of music.

Last year Miss Murray graduated from the conservatory of music, College of the Pacific in public school music. This year she will receive her Bachelor of Music degree in violin and musical history.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS MET

The executive committee of Redwood City Chapter American Red Cross held its regular monthly meeting in the office of the Central grammar school Thursday night. There were eleven members of the executive committee present and business of importance was transacted. Mr. Monteth, chairman of the chapter, gave a report on the work being done by Miss Cora E. Clute as community nurse. In his report Mr. Monteth told of the work Miss Clute is doing in going into homes where there is sickness and giving aid and instructions there. She has dressed many arms that have been very painful through vaccination. She has attended to numbers of tonsil cases. She has given aid and comfort to sufferers with mumps. She has taken children to the clinic who have needed glasses and have had to wear treatment for eye troubles.

Miss Clute as the report shows has been most active and is willing to go to any home whether the children attend public school, the convent or are not yet of school age. She will also go to homes in Woodside and Portola if her services are needed.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PILGRIMAGE TO SAN BRUNO

On Sunday next, March 13th, San Mateo Council, No. 1346, Knights of Columbus will journey to San Bruno for the purpose of receiving Holy Communion at the 8:30 mass.

Following the church services, those in attendance will partake of breakfast in the Bellevue Tavern. As the ladies of the neighboring St. Knights are taking an active interest in the success of this affair, it goes without saying that this report will be perfect in every detail.

The outstanding feature of this year's reunion will be the report of the Grand Knight, dealing with the wonderful and glorious success of his drives to relieve the Council of its heavy financial burden.

The jurisdiction of San Mateo Council embraces Palo Alto, as well as all of San Mateo county, which sends its quota from every town and hamlet throughout the land. Even San Francisco, Oakland and other neighboring cities send their delegates, as none wish to miss the great spiritual as well as mental good that is derived from these annual reunions.

Among those on the committee of arrangements are:

MOVING PICTURE MEN WOULD BUILD STUDIOS HERE

Tuesday evening about one hundred representative business men of this city gathered at a banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Sequoia. The object of the affair was to present plans for the building of a large moving picture studio here.

Isadore Bernstein, famous director, whose name is known to movie fans in all parts of the world and who started the vast studios at Los Angeles, was present and explained the inner workings of the profession in detail. Mr. Bernstein will be director general of the local studios. He is one of two directors in the world who holds a solid gold director's card, D. W. Griffith being the other.

Some of Mr. Bernstein's productions are: "Tarzan of the Apes," "The Confession" and "Outside the Law." His masterpiece is "Satan's Sister," which he hopes to be able to produce here. This subject, it is claimed, will be the greatest picture ever produced.

The climatic conditions, scenic variations and other natural advantages of Redwood City is what induced Mr. Bernstein to seek a location here.

With Mr. Bernstein was R. E. Clapp, business manager of the new corporation.

Mr. Clapp explained the business end of the concern, and what was expected of Redwood City. The corporation will be capitalized at $1,000,000, of this sum Redwood City people are expected to buy $50,000 worth of stock. Shares will be issued in blocks of $25 each, thereby enabling the small investor to buy one or more shares. It is not a donation but a matter where all shareholders will participate in the proceeds and become a business partner in the corporation.

A. C. Kingsbury will handle the stock sales of the company. He has successfully handled this end of the business in other similar enterprises and feels that the present undertaking will be a success.

Mr. Kingsbury is a pleasing gentleman and gave the reporter a great deal of inside facts concerning the movie industry. He told of the rapid growth of Hollywood after the large enterprise was established there a few years ago and what could be expected of Redwood City.

It is necessary that studios be located near some large city like San Francisco or Los Angeles and above a location with a variety of scenery. Mr. Kingsbury said that here we have mountains, hills, planes, river and harbor scenes close at hand, and the sunny days, which outnumber any city on the coast, is necessary for economical production of motion pictures.

These men are experienced in the movie business and speak very highly of this city as a movie town.

The plan is to make this an eight-unit producing plant, one of the most modern in the country and will accommodate eight companies at one time.

If located here it will bring the largest payroll of any concern in the county. Ordinarily about $18,000 a week will go into the pockets of employees. Many carpenters and painters, electricians and common laborers will be constantly on the payroll, all businesses will enjoy a liberal patronage.

After an exchange of ideas a committee of three was appointed to make a thorough investigation of the proposition, which consists of Chas. Lambert, L. P. Behrens and A. D. Walsh.

The major portion of the stock will be sold to San Francisco investors who are eager to finance the studios here. The plans provide for seven directors, four of whom will be residents of Redwood City, thereby giving us a majority of the of the directorate.

Max Arnold of San Francisco was present and agreed to subscribe for $5000 worth of stock, subject to the findings of the committee.

She will be sentenced on Monday. The maximum penalty is a fine of $2000 and imprisonment in the county jail for a period of two years.

NOT OUR PLEDGES

Some men appear to hold to the view that the action of Mr. Wilson in agreeing with Lloyd George and Clemenceau to the substitution of German bonds for the debt owed by Belgium to the United States will prove an embarrassment to the Harding administration, says the Republican Publicity Association. "Mr. Lamont, the financial adviser of the American delegation to the peace conference, assured Mr. Harding that he was 'free as air' to handle the debt question as he chose, but it is intimated that the disclosure of the Wilson agreement regarding Belgium refutes the statement of Mr.
Lamont. Moreover, it is suspected that further revelations may be forthcoming concerning what President Wilson said and did at Paris that may hamper even more President Harding's future policy concerning the allied indebtedness.

But fears of that court are groundless. Not a single act of Mr. Wilson while in Europe has been ratified by the Senate, and without that ratification the arrangements he made are utterly futile and of no effect. It will be recalled that Mr. Wilson agreed to urge upon the Senate an alliance between France and the United States by which this country would rush to the aid of France if she were ever again attacked by Germany. The suggested treaty of alliance has never been seriously considered by the Senate, and there is no indication that it will be. Does anybody contend that Mr. Wilson's individual acquiescence in such an alliance in any way binds the United States, or limits in the slightest degree what President Harding may or may not do concerning it? France knew that the alliance was without effect unless ratified by the Senate Belgium knew, or should have known that the President's promise of a debt exchanges was worthless unless concurred in by Congress.

The Belgium debt arrangement is on precisely the same legal footing
as the suggested French-American alliance. Mr. Wilson merely said that he would ask Congress to authorize the exchange of the Belgian obligation for German bonds. He has done it, and there the matter rests.
Congress is 'free as air' to adopt or reject Mr. Wilson's recommendation, and President Harding, likewise
will be 'free as air' to adopt, reject, or modify the policy followed by his predecessor.

In view of what has already been revealed of Mr. Wilson's conduct in Paris, the country may as well prepare itself for more astonishing disclosures. But they will be of importance only as confirming once more the public's estimate of the un-Americanism and total unfitness
for the executive office of the retiring occupant of the White House. They will furnish additional reason for congratulation that Wilsonism is dead. But aside from that it matters not what commitments the head of the American peace delegation may have made.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Wilson could have done nothing more preposterous than pledge the wealth and power of the United States to maintain world peace—which is precisely what he did in fathering the league of nations. But nobody will assert that the rejection of that undertaking by the United States Senate was any thing less than a complete release of this country from any obligations, actual or implied with which the covenant sought to burden us.

JAMES FITZGERALD TO SERVE THREE MONTHS IN JAIL

James Fitzgerald, who some time ago pleaded guilty to a charge of an assault with a deadly weapon, was sentenced by Judge Buck on Thursday afternoon to serve three months in the county jail.

Last year Fitzgerald shot Victor Holman four times. Both were employed on the estate of W. H. Crooker at Hillsborough. Holman was the chef and at meal time took opportunity to taunt Fitzgerald on account of his brogue, the latter possessing a rich Irish brogue. Fitzgerald endured the insults with meekness for a long time. One morning, being in-sulted by his tormentor, he arose from the breakfast table and fired four shots at Holman. For some days the latter hovered between life
and death, a shot in the stomach almost proved fatal.

G. D. Ferrell, of Burlingame, appeared for Fitzgerald, making an eloquent plea for leniency.

fendant.

a statutory crime of rape in the superior court some time ago, was

Buck to serve an indeterminate sentence of from one to fifty years at mitted at Burlingame last year. Since the commission of the crime Gale

MRS NASH RE-ELECTED SECRETARY OF COUNTY CLERK'S ASSOCIATION

The County Clerks' Association of the State of California concluded its three-day session in Sacramento on Wednesday afternoon with the re-election of H. A. Pfister, county clerk of Santa Clara county as president, and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Nash, county clerk of San Mateo county, as secretary.

A most interesting session of the association was held, many important matters being discussed. On Tuesday evening the association met with Lieutenant Governor C. C.
Young for the purpose of studying the primary election laws of the state, the Lieutenant Governor being particularly interested in election laws and being thoroughly familiar with them.

Mrs. Nash, the only woman county clerk in the state, was unopposed for re-election to that office, due to her close attention and careful and efficient work for the association during the past year.

with only the kindest feeling for
its people.

Mr. Wright will remain as man-time before engaging in business in South San Francisco.

COLLEGE OF THE PACIFIC WILL PRESENT GOOD PLAY

Redwood City is promised a particularly fine musical treat on the evening of March 23 when a chorus of eighty voices and orchestra of twenty pieces from the conservatory of music of the College of the Pacific will produce the famous "Saint Cecilia Mass" by Gounod. This organization annually presents oratorios and similar sacred music and this year they will give this mass at Redwood. In San Jose and the surrounding valley the performance by this chorus is considered the big event of the year. The Saint Cecilia Mass is one of the most popular of the oratorios and in many places is given each year at Easter.

The soloists at this performance will be Miss Lucilla Macabee, soprano; a graduate of this year's class at the conservatory; Dr. Charles M.
Richards, tenor of San Jose, and Professor M. Dennis of the conservatory faculty. The concert-master of the orchestra will be Mr. Nathan J.
Landsberger, who has been for years
head of the violin department at the College of the Pacific, and is known as one of the best violinists on the coast. The performance will be given under the direction of Howard
H. Hanson, the dean of the conservatory.

COUNTY BOARD IN REGULAR SESSION

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, March 7, 1921.

Dr. F. Holmes Smith, county health officer, submitted his monthly report in which he called the board's attention to the lack of the proper sanitary conditions in what is known as the Boyd & Kent Tract, at Five Points, near Redwood City. He recommended the appointment by the board of a deputy health officer to serve for several months on a salary to work under the direction of the county health officer in temporarily relieving the situation.

A communication from Mrs. J. M. Vickerson, president of the San Mateo County Federation of Women's Clubs was read, strongly recommending the appointment of the above deputy. The communication stated that the San Mateo County Federation of Women's Clubs represented the following organizations: South San Francisco, Redwood City, San Mateo and Burlingame Woman's Clubs, San Mateo, San Carlos and Hayward Park Parent Teachers' Associations and North Burlingame Community Club.

Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn, member of the above Federation and chairman of a special committee that had been recently appointed from the organization to look into the Five Points sanitary condition, addressed the board of supervisors in favor of the appointment of a deputy health officer, as suggested in Dr. Smith's report. Mrs. Kalenborn stated that she had recently gone over the situation with State Health Inspector Ross and that the latter had strongly recommended the appointment of the deputy health officer in order to clean up the place. Ross offered his assistance and co-operation, Mrs. Kalenborn explained, in getting the work properly started.

Mrs. Lila Kirkpatrick, president of the Redwood City Woman's Club, also addressed the board in reference to the matter and stated that the Federation had received letters from the coastside of the county, telling of unsanitary conditions in several districts there.

Mrs. W. E. La Dieu, who lives in the vicinity of the Boyd & Kent tract told of the deplorable conditions existing in the latter place and said what was needed was some person with the proper authority to go and tell the people there what they must do to conform to sanitary regulations.

Supervisor MacBain, in whose district the Boyd & Kent tract is located stated that personally he was in favor of granting the request of the club women, but that he didn't know whether the law would permit the board to spend any money in hiring an additional health officer.

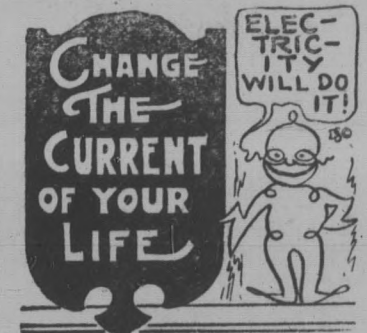

District Attorney Swart being called, read the law in the matter, which gives the supervisors permission to appoint a special health officer when required in the county, to fix the term of office and salary of same, the latter not to exceed $100 a year. The district attorney said he was in favor of the movement as outlined by the club women, but he doubted if very much could be accomplished with the small appropriation.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick said all that was necessary was a school of instructions and that a man working under the proper directions could accomplish a great deal of good.

Mrs. Kalenborn suggested that a student might be secured from Stanford University who is majoring in engineering for the position. On motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Brown, it was decided to appoint the deputy health officer, the selection of the proper person being left in the hands of the club women, who were assured every co-operation in carrying on the work from the supervisors and the county board of health.

A communication was received from the San Mateo County Social Service Commission, recommending the appointment of Mrs. Ben Griffith as Social Service Commissioner from Halfmoon Bay. The recommendation was approved, on motion of Supervisor Francis, seconded by Supervisor Brown.

A communication was received from Elgin E. Kreiss of Redwood City, asking for the appointment of special traffic officer on Sundays and holidays at the Five Points in Redwood. The request was granted, on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Brown.

Matthew M. Grady submitted his resignation as county sealer of weights and measures, to take effect the first of March. The resignation was accepted, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain.

A communication was received from Edward J. Ford of Daly City, asking for the appointment to the position made vacant through the resignation of Brady.

On motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain, the appointment of Ford was made, to take effect immediately.

County Engineer George A. Kneese submitted plans and specifications for repairing and oiling the La Honda road in the Third township from the summit to the Fifth township bridge. The plans and specifications were accepted, on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk of the board, was instructed to advertise for bids for the work.

The board took up at this time the claim of Stuart A. Smith in the sum of $3612 for furnishing a Tel-smith rock crushing plant to the county, payment of the claim having been protested by Supervisor MacBain after it had been allowed by the board several weeks ago. Supervisor MacBain's protest was based on the ground that the crusher was not delivered in accordance with the agreement he had with Smith, who, he claimed, had promised to set the machinery up and put it in proper running condition, as a complete unit, in every detail, which Supervisor MacBain claimed meant the furnishing of an engine with the crusher.

In answer to questions by District Attorney Swart, Smith who was present at the meeting, admitted that he had had a conversation with Supervisor MacBain in regard to the engine for the plant and as to the probable cost of the outfit with the engine and without it. He explained that at the time of the convention he did not know the exact price of the machinery but told Supervisor MacBain he would submit the figures in a letter.

Mrs. Nash, the clerk, referred to the minutes of the supervisors of August 16, wherein Smith submitted his price of $3612 for the rock crusher plant and showing where the board ordered Purchasing Agent Worder to buy the outfit at the above price. In reply to a question of Supervisor Hickey, County Purchasing Agent Worder stated that the question of an engine was not discussed at the time of the ordering of the crusher.

Supervisor MacBain still contended that from his conversation with Smith he had been led to believe that the price of $3612 called for the furnishing of the engine with the outfit, and he read a letter to the board written by Smith in which the latter stated that he would do in regard to setting up the plant and putting it in running condition.

The board feeling that there was a misunderstanding all around and with Supervisor MacBain agreeing not to press his protest any further, voted, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor Brown, to instruct the county auditor and the county treasurer to pay the claim of Smith, the latter on his part agreeing to furnish several necessary parts which had been omitted in the shipment.
